Long, long ago, in the days of the Prophet Nuh (or Noah), people did not worship Allah. So Allah sent Nuh عليه السلام to them with the message of truth. For a very long time, Nuh عليه السلام tried to lead them to the right path, but only a very few poor people paid any heed. In fact, the rich people tried to harm Nuh عليه السلام. So Nuh عليه السلام prayed to Allah for help and Allah asked him to build an Ark, saying that to punish these bad people, he would send a great flood. So Nuh عليه السلام, helped by a handful of believers, started building a huge Ark. People laughed at them.

When after lots and lots of hard and tiring work, the vessel was ready to sail, Nuh ﷺ asked all the believers to go on board in the name of Allah. Allah told Nuh ﷺ to bring along a male and a female of every kind of living creature as well. Nuh ﷺ had to keep enough food to feed them all for a long time. This was a big job, but Nuh ﷺ and his followers carried it out with all sincerity.

One by one all the animals entered the Ark. Some had wings and some had legs; some crawled and some hopped. All came right into the Ark in pairs. The Ark became a huge barn for the animals and a safe houseboat for the believers.

The animals came running—giraffes and rhinos, elephants and camels, monkeys and wolves, cats and kangaroos, bears and horses, cows and sheep, lions and tigers—and all went into the Ark in pairs.
